1. The Royal Mint - A Brief History

The Royal Mint can trace a continuous history spanning over eleven centuries, to the time of Alfred the Great. Although minting was not entirely London-based at this time, the decline of regional mints meant that by the early part of the thirteenth century minting was mainly confined to London and Canterbury and, from the middle of the sixteenth century, London's monopoly was virtually complete.

For 500 years the Mint was located at The Tower of London until the inevitable march of progress and introduction of mechanisation lead finally to a decision to leave the confines of the Tower and transfer to a new site on Little Tower Hill in 1812. For the next century and a half the Mint kept pace with an enormous increase in the demand for coin, at home and abroad. Construction and renovation became a continuous process at Tower Hill until, by the 1960s, little remained of the original Mint.

With the advent of decimalisation it was recognised that, in order to produce the hundreds of millions of coins required for 'D-Day' and still maintain an expanding overseas coin business, a new site was needed. In 1967 it was announced that the new Royal Mint would be built at Llantrisant, ten miles north of Cardiff.

In an industry where technology is always advancing the Royal Mint continues to invest heavily in people and equipment to ensure that this fully integrated facility possesses the most up-to-date machinery and processes in the world. The Mint has achieved and maintained accreditation to ISO 9001 and Investors in People.

2. Collector Coin Business

2.1 Direct Marketing

2.1.1 Sales of Royal Mint collector products commenced during the post-decimalisation period, selling the last of the £.s.d. and first decimal coinage. Fulfilment was through the Post Office in parallel with its philatelic operation in Edinburgh.

2.1.2 The success of the Edinburgh operation indicated the potential for ongoing sales, with the result that in 1976 the Royal Mint Numismatic Bureau was set up at Llantrisant and through a series of very successful media campaigns, a new database of collectors was created. In 1981 the Numismatic Bureau became the Royal Mint Coin Club, creating a less formal posture in the marketplace.

2.1.3 Today, the Royal Mint's database of UK collectors numbers approximately 300,000 with 140,000 active purchasers (purchased within last year). Using the Royal Mail's Postal Address systems, together with a continuous cleaning process to remove duplicates, 'gone aways', etc, from mailing activity, the list is extremely well maintained. In addition, twice yearly the entire list is cleaned and updated using an independent agency. A full order history is available, by individual, from 1981.

2.1.4 In the US and Canada also the Royal Mint markets collector coins to approximately 30,000 customers on its own database, with response being handled by Agents in each of those countries. Through these Agents the Royal Mint has access to some 6 million prospects through insert material with statements to banks and stores customers. This activity is being expanded through testing various list rental opportunities.

2.2 International Marketing

2.2.1 Outside of its Direct Marketing Activity to the Coin Club Database the Royal Mint operates its Collector Coin Business through a network of Dealers and Agents who provide access worldwide to the collectors and gift-givers of modern coins. These agents are supported through a structured discount facility and, where required, promotional support is given in the production of advertising literature.

Agents have been established in the following countries :

Germany	Benelux	Japan	Thailand
Switzerland	Norway	Singapore	Philippines
Austria	Sweden	Hong Kong	Australia
Italy	Denmark	China	New Zealand
Spain	Finland	Korea

Where there are no specific or exclusive Agents we have established many Dealers and Distributors in other countries such as the UK and USA.

The Royal Mint has a presence at all major coin fairs/conventions and is at the forefront of emerging markets, eg China, Middle East and India.

- 2.2.2 Our reputation and links with Overseas Monetary Authorities and Central Banks has enabled us to create substantial collector coin programmes which, through our Agents and in-house Direct Marketing expertise, have been successfully marketed worldwide. Eg: Royal Wedding Programme in 1981, World Wildlife Series, Commonwealth Games Programme, the 40th Anniversary of the Coronation and more recently, the 50th Anniversary of the United Nations and Her Majesty The Queen & Prince Phillip's Golden Wedding Celebration Issues.

The Royal Mint offers a full service in both the manufacture and marketing of these collections, with the infrastructure in place to maximise their potential.

- 2.2.3 Our presence in the marketplace and knowledge of the collector coin business in general helps us to identify trends where, perhaps for a short-time, a particular 'type' is in vogue or where there is a 'niche' market, eg Battle of Britain Jersey 4-coin Gold Set (500 Sets sold out).

2.2.4 Recognising the growth of electronic media, the Royal Mint has invested in a comprehensive Website (approximately 300 pages and growing) with the facility to order direct using this medium. Jersey products would have global exposure from this medium.

2.3 Direct Response Advertising

2.3.1 Over the last 25 years the Royal Mint Marketing Department has developed considerable expertise with the creation and growth of its own Promotions section responsible for the production of promotional literature and product packaging. This in-house expertise is supplemented by use of local designers so that projects can be handled swiftly and an offer delivered to the marketplace in a very short timescale. The emphasis, however, is on strategic growth with long-term planning underpinning opportunistic campaigns.

2.3.2 ISDN links are used to transfer artwork to printers, both in the UK and overseas, and further investment in AppleMac systems has provided greater flexibility in the creation of promotional material.

2.3.3 Advertising space in national press is bought extremely competitively using one of the UK's largest agencies, The Media Business, to negotiate placement opportunities. The volume of advertising handled by the agency gives them substantial bargaining power and it also means they get offered distress space opportunities on a regular basis, thereby maximising the revenue/promotional cost.

2.3.4 The establishment of the Mint's Fulfilment operations in the US and Canada provides a platform for production of advertising material in a style relevant to the marketplace and material for these is printed and distributed there with control from the UK.

2.4 Data-Driven Marketing

2.4.1 The need for flexibility and speedy development of a market-driven system has led to the development of a bespoke in-house system which is able to provide greater targeting and analysis of purchase history in order to drive future promotional activity.

2.4.2 The current system has been refined such that campaign analysis provides response detail by media, creative treatment, product mix, etc ensuring that revenue per pound promotional expenditure is maximised. This process is being continually refined and enhanced through purchase of packages which overlap order history with demographic/geographic data.

2.4.3 See Addendum for more technical information re Data-Driven Marketing.

3. Jersey Coinage - A Partnership with the Royal Mint

3.1 The Royal Mint has approximately 3,000 - 5,000 (depending on recency of purchase) collectors of Channel Island Issues. These have typically been souvenir issues, eg Jersey Liberation Anniversary coins, Battle of Britain coins or where Jersey has participated in a Royal Mint series. The lack of frequency of issues means that there has been no incentive to develop a base of collectors through investment in advertising other than to the Royal Mint's existing database ... this can change.

3.2 Opportunities:

Below is listed a few suggestions on how the Royal Mint can, in partnership with Jersey Post Office/Treasury, develop sensible and relevant programmes that will both generate revenue and maintain the dignity of Jersey's coinage.

3.3 Themes

3.3.1 British Naval History (justification for 'ship' themed coins - always popular).

This could be a programme in its own right (18 or 24 coins over 18 or 24 months), or could be a longer programme, say 3 designs per year over 6 years, or it could be incorporated into other 'ship programmes'.

3.3.2 Jersey Battle of Flowers: Incorporating the Royal Mint's facility for colour printing on coins with the well-known Jersey Battle of Flowers. Perhaps flowers and parishes could be combined.

3.3.3 Incorporation of Jersey into Royal Mint programmes, eg Millennium (1999/2000). Queen Mother's 100th Anniversary (2000), Golden Jubilee (2002), Commonwealth Games (2002), (perhaps Olympic Games, if appropriate, 2000).

3.3.4 Recruitment for WWF Wildlife programme.

3.3.5 Issue of a Diana coin in 1999. Note: this could be a good 'new name' generator for building a list of Jersey coin collectors).

3.3.6 Identifying one-off niche Marketing opportunities which are able to be sustained by links with Jersey (eg 100th Anniversary of the Boer War - 4-coin Gold Set series). (1999 - 2002).

3.4 Product Types/Variety

3.4.1 There are opportunities in the marketplace to broaden the range of coins issued, eg in addition to £1 and Crowns there is collector interest in 65mm, 1/2 kilo and Kilo coins. Also in small gold coins 1/25 oz, etc.

3.4.2 Developing, through discussion with Jersey Post Office and Treasury, opportunities for PNCs (Philatelic/Numismatic Covers) and Coin/Banknote Sets.

3.4.3 In addition to Proof and Uncirculated quality the Royal Mint can add colour to coins, can add a gold spray cameo and has developed a technique for applying a hologram effect onto a coin. (Note: the UK £2 1999 Rugby World Cup coins in silver and gold will utilise this hologram effect).

3.5 Royalty Levels

We would suggest Royalty levels for the more common range of products should be as follows :

4-coin Gold Proof Set	£90
5oz Proof Silver	£10
1/4oz Gold Proof	£10
1/25oz Gold Proof	£2
Crown Silver Proof	£2.50
£1 Silver Proof	£2.00

3.6 Dignity of the Coinage

In trying to expand the Collector Coin Business the Royal Mint would be conscious to ensure that the dignity of the coinage was maintained.

That is why, in this proposal, we are not offering guarantees of Royalty income. Over-ambitious guarantees would drive both Jersey and the Royal Mint down a route which, once taken, would demean Jersey coins on the collector market. The Royal Mint would not wish to see this happen, neither would we want our name to be associated with the management of a country's coinage, where this has been allowed to happen.

4. Contract

We have not incorporated a contract with this proposal as this would be more appropriate once discussions and agreements on themes, product type, product range, etc have been established.

5. Summary

It is felt that the Royal Mint, with its long-established history, combined with its modern technology, its state of the art Marketing and fulfilment operation, and its breadth of experience in the international Collector Coin Market would be an ideal partner for Jersey States Treasury and Jersey Post Office to develop together our thoughts and ideas on themes, designs and programmes, which will both generate revenue and maintain the dignity of Jersey's coinage.

ADDENDUM

Direct Marketing Data Systems

The vast majority of Marketing systems operate on one dedicated ICL Teamserver machine under a Unix operating system. A comprehensive security policy is operated, a backup system is provided on an alternative ICL Teamserver and RAID (Redundant Array of Independent Disks) technology is employed which allows continued use of the system in the case of disk failure.

Most of the main Marketing software systems (in particular the UK and North American Retail program suites, the central product databases and campaign monitoring systems) have been developed in-house using a 4GL programming language called Unix Mega. The Business-to-Business and World Trade/Dealer areas use a purchased Sales Order Processing system. Numerous other packages are used, as appropriate, (eg communications software, OCR/ICR software, Word Processing/Spreadsheet/Database, e-mail, etc) but in the main all development is done on the corporate system.

We have an Internet website consisting of over 300 pages which includes the facility to e-mail and place orders on-line (website address: <http://www.royalmint.com>).

Dear Nigel

As discussed earlier this week, I am pleased to advise that arrangements have been made to despatch a further consignment of your £1 and 20p circulation coins, and details pertaining to the shipment are as follows:-

Denomination	Number of Pieces	Number of Boxes	Box Numbers
£1	150,000	30	R1-30

The above coins will be despatched in one container via "Autoroute Shipping" and the vessel is due to depart Portsmouth on 26 September and it is estimated that the consignment will arrive at the States Treasury on Wednesday 27 September.

Finally, I trust that this consignment is safely received at the States Treasury.

This is a summary of our main terms and conditions. Our full terms and conditions are on display and available from DHL Service Centres.

About our terms and conditions

1. Our contract with you

These terms and conditions together with those available from our Service Centres, are all the terms of the contract between you, the sender of the shipment and us, DHL. When you give us your shipment, you accept our terms both for yourself and for anyone else who has an interest in the shipment. Our terms and conditions also protect anyone who may contract to collect, transport or deliver your shipment. No employee of DHL or anyone else has any authority to change any of our terms or conditions or make any promise on our behalf.

2. What 'shipment' means

Shipment means all documents or parcels that travel under one airwaybill. You certify that shipment details are complete and accurate.

3. International shipments

You appoint us as your agent to conduct Customs clearance and entry and certify DHL as consignee solely for the purpose of designating a Customs Broker to perform Customs clearance and entry.

4. Shipments we do not accept

We do not accept as a shipment anything that

- is restricted by IATA (International Air Transport Association) or ICAO (International Civil Aviation Organization)
- we decide we cannot transport safely or legally.

You can get full information from our Service Centres about shipments that we do not currently accept. You certify that your shipment is not restricted by any of the above.

5. Inspection and Charging

You agree that we may open and inspect a shipment for any reason at any time. We charge according to the higher of actual or volumetric weight.

6. If you have asked us to bill the receiver or a third party

You agree to pay all shipment charges and destination duties and taxes for this shipment if the receiver or third party does not pay.

7. Claims

If you wish to claim for a lost (including misdelivered) or damaged shipment

- you must claim in writing
- we must receive your claim within 30 days from the date that we accepted your shipment
- please send or take your claim to your nearest DHL office

IMPORTANT NOTICE

By the conditions set out below, DHL and its servants and agents are firstly not to be liable at all for certain losses and damage, and, secondly wherever they are to be liable, the amount of liability is strictly limited to the amount stated in condition 8. Customers are therefore advised to purchase insurance cover to ensure that their interests are protected. See condition 10 — Insurance — below.

The terms and conditions applicable to DHL's Worldmail Service are available from DHL service centres. Paras 11 through 13 and 14 — Warsaw Convention — apply.

What we are liable for

8. Extent of our liability

(Subject to conditions 11 and 13) In respect of any one shipment, our liability for any loss or damage however occasioned is limited to the lowest of these three amounts:

- US $100 or
- the actual amount of any loss or damage suffered by you, or
- the actual value of the shipment. This does not include any commercial value or special value to you or to any other person.

9. What we mean by 'actual value'

The lowest of the following amounts, determined as at the time and place we accepted the shipment:

Documents

- the cost of repairing or replacing the document, or
- the cost of reconstructing or reconstituting the document

Parcels

- the cost of repairing or replacing the parcel, or
- the resale or fair market value of the parcel.

The actual value of a parcel cannot be more than the original cost to you plus 10 per cent.

Shipment insurance

10. We recommend that you take out shipment insurance. We can arrange insurance for you for up to US $5 million. But please note that our shipment insurance does not cover consequential damages or loss or damage caused by transportation delays. If you do not take the Shipment insurance YES box on the front of the airwaybill, you assume all risks of loss or damage.

What we are not liable for

11. Delayed shipments

We are not liable for any reasonable effort to deliver your shipment according to the normal delivery schedule, but there are not guaranteed and do not form part of the Contract. We are not liable for any delay.

12. Circumstances beyond our control

We are not liable if a shipment is lost, damaged or misdelivered because of circumstances beyond our control. These include:

- Act of God, for example earthquake, cyclone, storm or flood
- force majeure, for example a war, plane crash or embargo
- any defect or characteristic to do with the nature of the shipment, even if known to us (whether we accepted it)
- any action or omission by anyone outside DHL. For example:
  - the sender of the shipment
  - the receiver
  - an interested third party
  - Customs or other Government officials
  - the Postal Service, other carrier or other third party, who we contract to serve locations that we do not serve directly. We are not liable on if the sender did not ask for or know about a third party arrangement.

We are also not liable for electrical or magnetic damage to or erasure of electronic or photographic images or recordings.

13. Consequential damages

We are not liable for the following, whether they arise in contract or any other form of contract, including negligence, and even if they are our fault:

- consequential or special damages or loss
- other indirect loss
- breach of other contracts

Consequential damages or loss include, but are not limited to, lost income, profits, interest, market, and use of contents.

Warsaw Convention

14. If the transportation of a shipment involves an ultimate destination or stop in a country other than the country of departure, the Warsaw Convention may apply. The Convention governs, and in most cases further limits, our liability for loss or damage to such shipment.

Simon,

I had a call today from Ian Branden working on behalf of the Audit Commission covering Jersey for bank notes and coins.

He asked me a few questions on our arrangement with Jersey vis-a-vis circulation coins/collector coins/customer liaison etc.

The questions were fairly general and I think he had all the information he wanted, but I think it would be a good idea if you were to call him back on Tuesday just to follow up.

His direct telephone number is 01534 858714.

Regards,
Clare

Dear Nigel

I refer to our telephone conversation last week and have pleasure in providing you with a quotation for supplying quantities of your £1 and 1p circulation coins as follows:-

1. SPECIFICATIONS

Our quotation is based on the assumption that the specification details are in accordance with coins previously issued to Jersey.

2. DESIGNS

The obverse design will depict the new Ian Rank Broadley portrait, and existing reverse designs will be used.

3. PACKAGING

The coins will be packed in cotton bags and then into boxes in accordance with previous practice.

4. PRICES

Our CIF Jersey prices per 1,000 pieces are shown on the attached Appendix (i).

If you have received this fax in error, please call back on the telephone number given above and then destroy this material. Please treat our information with the same confidentiality that you would expect us to do with yours.

5. DELIVERY

We anticipate that completion of your £1 coin order could be made within 12 weeks from receipt of your order. At this time we will be processing UK £1 blanks as indeed at present no blanks are held in stock. We should be able to complete your order for 1p coins within 4 weeks, assuming that existing tooling is required.

If an earlier delivery is required, please let us know and we will endeavour to meet your needs.

6. PAYMENT TERMS

As usual, we assume that payment will be made against invoice within 30 days of receipt.

7. VALIDITY

This offer is valid until 28 May and thereafter is subject to our reconfirmation.

We trust that our offer is interest to the States of Jersey Treasury and look forward to receiving your further instructions.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely

Simon Lake
